

Hungry Paris
Is Anxiously Awaiting Men
Of Liberation

BY TRUDI McCULLOUGH
The Associated Press
This is the Paris that awaits the allied armies.

A hungry city, grown hungrier since the invasion armies landed. Supplies from Brittany and Normandy, the nation's larders, have ceased to flow into the capital.

A city where almost any food can be had on the black market, but housewives cue up from 5 a.m. to dusk for their rutabaga and 125 grams of bread.

Only Nazis and collaborationists can afford the black market, where a leg of lamb costs 1500-2000 francs, a pound of butter 1250 francs.

Meat Is Scarce For Patriots
For the patriot there is almost no meat. Milk is only to be had in hospitals, and eggs not at all. Early in the occupation some provident citizens kept a hen in their apartments to insure eggs. But there was no grain "and they were obliged to eat the hen."

These facts coming from Andre Labarthe, publisher of the French patriot magazine, Tricolor, are supplemented by an article in the current issue. From it a picture of Paris in the waning days of its occupation can be drawn.

At the cafés which remain open and busy, the French who have money to spend sit at one table, the Germans at another, ignoring each other. There is no coffee after 3 p.m., no chocolate before 3 p.m. Curfew rings sometimes at 9 p.m., sometimes at midnight. Those who miss the last subway must stay at the nightspots until dawn.

Officers Flock to Maxim's
At Maxim's, which has become a social headquarters for high ranking officers, prices are eight times what they were in 1940. Horcher, the famous Berlin caterer, who at the Paris World's Fair in 1937 was chef at the German building, is major domo at Maxim's.

Prices here dictate a Nazi clientele; other cafés have been seized for the Germans with orchestras playing German music. Mendelssohn is forbidden.

Large movie theaters like the Marignan, Le Paris, and Lutetia, also are reserved for the Germans. Other movie houses are heavily patronized by Parisians. They have proved to be a popular meeting place for the Underground. If Nazis attend they do so in civilian clothes. Nearly all "Germans dress in civilian clothes at night," reports Tricolor; "it has been found safer."

Theaters Packed

American cigarettes sell for 400 francs a package. At night clubs cigarette girls manage to get 600 for them. The theaters are running to capacity with French plays. Sacha Guitry, now divorcing his fourth wife, is producing new plays as continuously as ever. The Germans have brought theatrical companies from Berlin for gala performances. When they recently performed a Moliera masterpiece, a French patriot veiled the bust of Moliera in the gallery.

The Germans have tried to hold fashionable race meetings, but since the successful bombing of the anti-aircraft batteries at the famed Longchamp track, the Auteuil race course is the only one in use.

Thus are the Germans spending their time as the sands of their occupation run out.

Frank Vanderwall, Gettysburg R. 5, was seriously injured about 1 o'clock this afternoon when the tractor he was driving was struck by a large cattle truck about three miles east of Gettysburg on the Lincoln highway.

Private Harold Sheads, of the state police, said the truck was driven by Edgar F. Grady, of Harrisonburg, Va. George Ford, Gettysburg R. 4, who was riding in a wagon, pulled by the tractor, was also injured.

The injured were taken by ambulance to the Annie M. Warner hospital.

Vanderwall, who is a biology teacher in the Hanover high school, was driving to his orchard near the Lincoln highway.

Grady told police that as he approached the tractor two cars were driving in each of the other two lanes and prevented him from passing. He said his brakes were too poor to permit him to stop and he crashed into the farm equipment.

The tractor and wagon were demolished and were carried for some distance under the bumper of the truck. The front of the truck was smashed in.

MAURICE SMALL IS KILLED IN FRANCE JULY 13

Pvt. Maurice C. Small, son of Walter Small, South Washington street, was killed in action in Normandy July 13, the War Department advised the soldier's wife in a telegram this morning.

On August 9 Mrs. Small received a telegram from the War Department informing her that her husband was missing in action since July 13. This morning Adjutant Ulio sent the following telegram to Mrs. Small:

"The Secretary of War desires that I tender his deep sympathy to you in the loss of your husband. Pvt. Maurice C. Small, who was previously reported missing in action. Report now received states he was killed in action thirteen July in France. Letter follows.

4 Brothers In Service

Private Small, who would have observed his 38th birthday anniversary on December 20, was the oldest of five sons of Walter Small in service. He, like his four brothers in service, was a former carrier boy for The Gettysburg Times. His father is a pressman at The Times.

Three days before he was killed on the French front, Private Small wrote to his father and expressed concern over the future education of his younger brothers. He also asked that, in event of anything happening to him, that his father take care of his widow. He also asked that his two brothers receive a "good education."

Marrried in 1936
Private Small was married to the former Miss Martha E. Miller, of Littlestown, March 1, 1936. They have no children.

His brothers in service are: Thomas, who entered the Navy August 7; Norman, who is serving in Italy; Philip, who is with American troops in France and William, who is with the Coast Guard at sea.

Norman and William were employed in the composing room of The Times when they entered service.

Maurice Small entered service November 23, 1943. He reported to the New Cumberland induction center and then was sent to Fort McClellan, Alabama, for his basic training. He had been overseas for several months.

Ruling Affects Overseas Mailing

A new ruling by the Post Office department has eliminated the mailing of eight-ounce packages that include foodstuffs and candy to service personnel overseas. Postmaster Lawrence Oyler revealed today.

Heretofore packages for overseas mailing up to eight ounces containing foodstuffs and candy were allowed to be made without request from those overseas. The new ruling was the result of an overwhelming number of packages of that type being put in the mails.

Eight-ounce packages not containing foodstuffs and candy, are still permitted.

Packages up to five pounds, including foodstuffs and candy, may be mailed if requested by the receiver.

BOARD ADOPTS CHANGES FOR RURAL SCHOOL

The adoption of geography and a background course in world history in one of Adams county's fourth class school districts and the recommendation of adoption of the same in another district were announced today by Assistant Superintendent of Schools Robert A. Bream.

Doctor Bream met this week with the school board and teachers of Hamilton township where the two matters were adopted and with the teachers of the New Oxford elementary schools who recommended to the school board the adoption of the two courses.

Most school boards have been reluctant to adopt a geography book at the present time, Doctor Bream said, because of the eminent changes in political borders and divisions. He stated, however, that the way the books were being written and studied today, it was a matter of natural geographical features, their relation to man's economic and social life rather than artificial boundaries.

Use Work Books

The members of the Hamilton township school board at the meeting were Paul R. Shultz, president; John Myers and Lloyd L. Slope. Teachers present were Gerald L. Orndorff, Ruth A. Dearick, M. Isabel Walker and Leslie E. Reinacher.

Also adopted were spelling work books, reading pre-primers, English work books and arithmetic work books.

The New Oxford teachers, Miss Ruth McDowell, Z. Ruth Spangler and Lottie E. Hulick, decided to recommend to their board a similar series of supplemental textbooks which would correlate the study of geography and history.

VETERAN IS ON CONVALESCENT FURLough HERE

Pvt. Paul M. Strausbaugh, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Strausbaugh, 26 Carlisle street, who was wounded during the first day's operations on the Anzio beachhead, is spending a 15-day convalescent furlough at his home here.

Private Strausbaugh is stationed at the Newton D. Baker General Hospital, Martinsburg, W. Va., where he is undergoing treatments for the severe wound he received in the abdomen. He expects to be at the hospital several months.

"I just don't know what hit me," the tall, thin soldier said. "One minute I was standing up, a couple of seconds later I was flat on my back wondering what was going on."

He believes he was struck by a large fragment from a concussion grenade, thought to be one of the German "potato masher" type—a large steel cylinder with a handle attached. And because he wasn't opposite the German lines he believes the grenade came from a Jerry patrol.

Wounded February 5
"We went into the beachhead early on the day of February 15," he related, "and spread out our positions during the day. By nightfall of that day I was about eight miles from the beach and had dug into a foxhole."

"That evening I got out and went

BANKERS TOLD FUTURE RESTS WITH RELIGION

"There is no hope for America in politics. Our hope is in the thinker," declared Dr. J. E. Hartzer, professor of philosophy at the Hartford Seminary Foundation, Hartford, Conn.

Adams County Bankers Association quarterly dinner-meeting at the Hotel Gettysburg.

"America, along with all other countries of the world, is ceasing to be what it is, and in the process of becoming what it is not yet. What America will be tomorrow depends on our philosophy of religion, of education and of state today," said Doctor Hartzer.

"Five ancient civilizations, the Egyptian, the Babylonian, the Persian, the Greek and the Roman have passed, due largely to their philosophy of religion, of life and of state. The bi-products of these wrong philosophies were impossible national debts, burdensome and unjust taxes, corrupt politics, and unscrupulous dictators. Has America learned the lesson?

Three Philosophies

"In the making of America we have three important philosophies: a philosophy of religion, a philosophy of life, and a philosophy of state, represented in the Christian Scriptures, the Declaration of Independence, and in the Constitution of the United States. What made America can also keep America.

"Our problem at present is not in Europe or in the far Pacific. Our problem is to win this war at home. The defeat of Germany and Japan is assured. But whether we shall win the war at home is not so certain. The 'New Deal' philosophy has failed us; it did not keep its promises, and can not. It follows too closely the Fascism and Communism of Europe.

Have Two Courses

"As we make the curve we may take one of two ways, namely, the way of Statism, or the way of Americanism. Statism includes Fascism, Communism and Nazism. To set up in America the systems which we propose to be fighting in Europe does not make sense."

"The American way, based on our philosophy of religion, our philosophy of life, and of state, finding expression through the church house, the school house, the dwelling house, and the court house, is our way out and the only way out."

"America is coming on condition: (1) That we have learned the lesson of the past civilizations; (2) that we recognize and honor the impeccable moral law at the foundation of the universe; (3) that we recognize and honor the law of supply and demand underlying the economic structure of the universe; (4) that we maintain our free system of enterprise and the right to the rewards of thrift, and (5) provided we maintain our government by law and not by an individual or group of individuals."

"One hundred persons were in attendance and every bank in the association was largely represented. Additional guests included counters from York and Hanover.

Taneytown Soldier Killed In Action

Pfc. Kenneth W. Crumbacker, 22-year-old son of Mrs. Carrie Bankert, Taneytown, who was reported by the War Department as having been killed in action in France on July 15, is said to be the first Taneytown boy to fall mortally wounded in World War II.

The youthful sergeant wears the pre-Pearl Harbor service ribbon with the battle star for service (Continued on P. 1. Second Section)

Church To Observe 50th Anniversary

The fifth anniversary of the Mt. Carmel United Brethren church, near Orrtanna, the Rev. H. O. Sipe, pastor, will be observed Sunday with all-day services.

Sunday school at 9:30 a.m. will be followed by a basket luncheon at noon. A social hour will follow.

The Rev. Dr. Ira S. Ernst, Washington, D. C., a former pastor, will deliver the sermon in the afternoon. The public is invited.

ARRIVES IN ENGLAND

Bernice N. Fisher, Selinsgrove, has arrived in England to serve the armed forces as an American Red Cross hospital recreation worker.

A memorial service for Pfc. Crumbacker, was conducted in the Taneytown Reformed church, with the Rev. Guy J. Bready, pastor, officiating.

Thunderbolts intercepted and destroyed one convoy of 50 enemy motor trucks towing field guns toward the battle area, leaving at least 42 of the vehicles in flames and the others damaged.

On the contrary, there were signs that the Germans nervously were preparing for an extension of Allied landings.

Another Countian Reported Wounded

Pvt. Robley Higinbotham, 20-year-old son of R. H. Higinbotham New Oxford, R. 1, was wounded in action in France on July 5, according to a War Department telegram received by relatives.

A letter, written by the young soldier to his father stated that his wounds are slight and that he is recovering in a hospital in England. He has been awarded the Purple Heart medal, he revealed.

Pvt. Higinbotham has been in the armed forces since September, 1942. He trained at Camp Atterbury, Ind., and Camp Breckinridge, Ky.

SGT. J. B. BOYLE SAYS JAPS ARE NOT SUPERMEN

After spending more than four years in the Army in the Pacific area, Sgt. Joseph B. Boyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Boyle, Lumberville township, near Emmaus, has arrived at his home to spend a "delay in route" period before going to a rest camp.

The 25-year-old former farmer enlisted for foreign service on May 8, 1942, and was sent to Hawaii. Stationed there with the medical regiment of the 24th Division, he was on the scene when the Japs attacked Pearl Harbor December 7, 1941.

He saw the destruction of life and property there, however, he declined to talk about it when interviewed by a reporter for The Gettysburg Times.

His next travels were to Australia where he underwent ambitious training and preparation for combat duty—training which proved invaluable for him in the following few months.

New Guinea Battle

More than two years after Pearl Harbor he was with the attacking force which opened landing operations and established a beachhead in the town from nearby heights. Broadcasts indicated they had little hope of holding the town where Napoleon landed in 1815 to begin his famous 100-day campaign.

Nine Towns Are Captured

The Allied announcement listed nine other towns in Allied hands—the coastal towns of St. Tropez, Ste. Maxime, St. Raphael, Frejus and Le Lavandou, and the inland communities of Le Muy, Le Luc, Lorgues and Collobrières.

Lorgues, the farthest inland, is 27 miles from the coast at Cap Camarat near St. Tropez in the approximate center of the beachhead front.

The swift advance of American and French troops inland continues and numerous additional villages and towns have been taken.

Patton's Forces Are Lunging For French Capital

By GLADWIN HILL

Rome, Aug. 17 (AP)—Allied troops have punched out a solid front 50 miles broad and about 30 miles deep along the coast of southern France, Maj. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's Seventh Army headquarters announced today.

On the west the invasion forces drove within 10 miles of the historic old fortified naval base of Toulon. On the east they were within 10 miles of the picturesque resort of Cannes. The invaders, spearheaded by three veteran American divisions and supported by heavily armored French forces, had seized an area of approximately 500 square miles.

(The German communiqué said the Allies already had penetrated Cannes. German broadcasts reported air borne troops had landed northwest of Cannes and entered the town after bloody fighting. Although the Germans declared they were shelling the town from nearby heights, broadcasts indicated they had little hope of holding the town where Napoleon landed in 1815 to begin his famous 100-day campaign.)

"The swift advance of American and French troops inland continues and numerous additional villages and towns have been taken," Patch announced.

"There was little trouble. It took us just about a day following the early morning start to establish the beachhead, and we took the air strip within eight days."

The capture of the Hollandia air field marked the virtual conquest of the island.

"I can't say a whole lot about the operations because of military secrecy," the sergeant stated, "but I can tell you what we were taught and what keeps you alive in the South Pacific jungle fighting."

"The first thing is to dig your foxhole. Second on the list is to keep a sharp watch both in front and behind you for Jap snipers. They often slip behind your lines and you have to be watching for them all the time."

"There was little trouble. It took us just about a day following the early morning start to establish the beachhead, and we took the air strip within eight days."

The capture of the Hollandia air field marked the virtual conquest of the island.

"I can't say a whole lot about the operations because of military secrecy," the Sergeant stated, "but I can tell you what we were taught and what keeps you alive in the South Pacific jungle fighting."

"The first thing is to dig your foxhole. Second on the list is to keep a sharp watch both in front and behind you for Jap snipers. They often slip behind your lines and you have to be watching for them all the time."

Japs Not Supermen

"Those Japs certainly aren't supermen," he continued. "They will give up almost every time before committing har-kari."

"And they were given equal medical care with the American troops. Of course our men were treated first, but then the Japs were given the same kind of treatment."

Astonishing Success

It thus was evident that the Allies within 48 hours after their landing had achieved an astonishing success in seizing the primary requisites for a large scale operation.

With the tanks and mighty M-10 tank destroyers ashore it was also evident that Patch was in a position to weather the greatest danger ahead—the period in the first 72 hours when the enemy might mass armored reserves to make a counterattack.

But so far there was little evidence to show that the Germans were massing for such counterattacks.

Thunderbolts intercepted and destroyed one convoy of 50 enemy motor trucks towing field guns toward the battle area, leaving at least 42 of the vehicles in flames and the others damaged.

On the contrary, there were signs that the Germans nervously were preparing for an extension of Allied landings.

Bulk of Nazi Escape Trap

The escape of the bulk of Field Marshal Guenther Von Kluge's armor already has been conceded, leaving only remnants of possibly 14 enemy divisions—some stripped to the bone—still caught west of the Falaise-Argentan escape hatch.

A dispatch from Associated Press War Correspondent Roger D. Greene said that "high British officers reflected tranquility over the situation, however, and intimated that Allied high strategy has even greater blows in store for the enemy."

Supreme headquarters gave no indication what these might be, although German accounts suggested that new Allied mystery thrusts were in progress west of Paris.

(The German agency DNB said American forces had thrust into the cathedral city of Chartres, 47 miles southwest of Paris, but there was no Allied confirmation of any operations in that area.)

Ruling Affects Overseas Mailing

A new ruling by the Post Office department has eliminated the mailing of eight-ounce packages that include foodstuffs and candy to service personnel overseas, Postmaster Lawrence Oyler revealed today.

Heretofore packages for overseas mailing up to eight ounces containing foodstuffs and candy were allowed to be made without request from those overseas. The new ruling was the result of an overwhelming number of packages of that type being put in the mails. Eight-ounce packages not containing foodstuffs and candy, are still permitted.

Packages up to five pounds, including foodstuffs and candy, may be mailed if requested by the receiver.

BOARD ADOPTS CHANGES FOR RURAL SCHOOL

The adoption of geography and a background course in world history in one of Adams county's fourth class school districts and the recommendation of adoption of the same in another district were announced today by Assistant Superintendent of Schools Robert A. Bream.

Doctor Bream met this week with the school board and teachers of Hamilton township where the two matters were adopted and with the teachers of the New Oxford elementary schools who recommended to the school board the adoption of the two courses.

Most school boards have been reluctant to adopt a geography book at the present time, Doctor Bream said, because of the eminent changes in political borders and divisions. He stated, however, that the way the books were being written and studied today it was a matter of natural geographical features, their relation to man's economic and social life rather than artificial boundaries.

Use Work Books

The members of the Hamilton township school board at the meeting were Paul R. Shultz, president; John Myers and Lloyd L. Swope. Teachers present were Gerald L. Orndorf, Ruth A. Deatrick, M. Isabel Walker and Leslie E. Reinecker.

Also adopted were spelling work books, reading pre-primers, English work books and arithmetic work books.

The New Oxford teachers, Miss Ruth McDowell, Z. Ruth Spangler and Littleton E. Hulick, decided to recommend to their board a similar series of supplemental textbooks which would correlate the study of geography and history.

VETERAN IS ON CONVALESCENT FURLough HERE

Pvt. Paul M. Straubhaar, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Straubhaar, 26 Carlisle street, who was wounded during the first day's operations on the Anzio beachhead, is spending a 15-day convalescent furlough at his home here.

Private Straubhaar is stationed at the Newton D. Baker General Hospital, Martinsburg, W. Va., where he is undergoing treatments for the severe wound he received in the abdomen. He expects to be at the hospital several months.

"I just don't know what hit me," the tall, thin soldier said. "One minute I was standing up, a couple of seconds later I was flat on my back wondering what was going on."

He believes he was struck by a large fragment from a concussion grenade, thought to be one of the German "potato masher" type—a large steel cylinder with a handle attached. And because he wasn't opposite the German lines he believes the grenade came from a Jerry patrol.

Wounded February 5

"We went into the beachhead early on the day of February 15," he related, "and spread out our positions during the day. By nightfall of that day I was about eight miles from the beach and had dug into a foxhole."

"That evening I got out and went

BANKERS TOLD FUTURE RESTS WITH RELIGION

Pfc. Robley Higinbotham, 20-year-old son of R. H. Higinbotham, New Oxford R. 1, was wounded in action in France on July 5, according to a War Department telegram received by relatives.

A letter, written by the young soldier to his father stated that his wounds are slight and that he is recovering in a hospital in England. He has been awarded the Purple Heart medal, he revealed.

Pfc. Higinbotham has been in the armed forces since September, 1942. He trained at Camp Atterbury, Ind., and Camp Breckinridge, Ky.

"America, along with all other countries of the world, is ceasing to be what it is, and in the process of becoming what it is not yet. What America will be tomorrow depends on our philosophy of religion, of education and of state today," said Doctor Hartzler.

"Five ancient civilizations, the Egyptian, the Babylonian, the Persian, the Greek and the Roman have passed, due largely to their philosophy of religion, of life and of state. The bi-products of these wrong philosophies were impossible national debts, burdensome and unjust taxes, corrupt politics, and unscrupulous dictators. Has America learned the lesson?

Three Philosophies

"In the making of America we have three important philosophies: A philosophy of religion, a philosophy of life, and a philosophy of state, represented in the Christian Scriptures, the Declaration of Independence, and in the Constitution of the United States. What made America can also keep America.

"Our problem at present is not in Europe or in the far Pacific. Our problem is to win this war at home. The defeat of Germany and Japan is assured. But whether we shall win the war at home is not so certain. The New Deal's philosophy has failed us; it did not keep its promises, and can not. It follows too closely the Fascism and Communism of Europe.

"As we make the curve we may take one of two ways, namely, the way of Statism, or the way of Americanism. Statism includes Fascism, Communism and Nazism. To set up in America the systems which we propose to be fighting in Europe does not make sense.

"The American way, based on our philosophy of religion, our philosophy of life, and of state, finding expression through the church house, the school house, the dwelling house, and the court house, is our way out and the only way out.

"America is coming on condition: (1) That we have learned the lesson of the past civilizations; (2) that we recognize and honor the impeachable moral law at the foundation of the universe; (3) that we recognize and honor the law of supply and demand undergirding the economic structure of the universe; (4) that we maintain our free system of enterprise and the right to the rewards of thrift, and (5) provided we maintain our government by law and not by an individual or group of individuals."

One hundred persons were in attendance and every bank in the association was largely represented. Additional guests included bankers from York and Hanover.

Taneytown Soldier Killed In Action

Pfc. Kenneth W. Crumbacker, 22-year-old son of Mrs. Carrie Bankert, Taneytown, who was reported by the War Department as having been killed in action in France on July 15, is said to be the first Taneytown soldier to fall mortally wounded in World War II.

Pfc. Crumbacker entered the service on February 11, 1943, at Fort George G. Meade, Md., and trained in Alabama and Wisconsin before going overseas on May 10, this year. He went from England to France and then to Italy, where he was serving with the 12th AAF B-26 Marauder Bomber Base in Italy (By Mail).

Corporal Wilbur McLeaf, Fairfield, an airplane mechanic with the old B-26 Marauder group in the AAF, has made profitable use of his spare time by enrolling in an accounting course given by the Special Service division.

Corporal McLeaf wears the European theatre ribbon with three stars and the Good Conduct medal.

ALLIES WILL OCCUPY JAPAN AND GERMANY

By HOWARD FLIEGER

Washington, Aug. 17 (AP)—President Roosevelt returned to Washington today from a 15,000-mile trip into the Pacific to declare that Allied armies will drive in and occupy Germany and Japan even should resistance collapse short of enemy borders.

It was the first definite assertion that Germany and Japan will not be able to use the Allies' own war goal—unconditional surrender—to keep our forces out of their homelands.

Thus time, the President said, Germany will not escape the military occupation which she dodged by armistice in the First World war.

Mr. Roosevelt made the statement to a news conference aboard his special train as it approached Washington at a time when allied forces were pushing ashore in powerful new landings on the southern coast of France.

Absent 35 Days

The President—back in Washington after a 35-day absence that took him to Hawaii and the Aleutians where his ship skirted within 900 miles of Japanese territory—planned to discuss his Pacific tour as soon as possible with military leaders and Secretary of State Hull.

He also will meet promptly with Congressional leaders, he said, but he does not intend to make a formal report to Congress.

Asked if he will meet with Senator Harry Truman of Missouri, the President said he will see his vice presidential running mate if the latter is in Washington. The two have had no opportunity to talk things over since the Democratic convention put them together on the fourth term ticket.

Mr. Roosevelt met reporters of the Associated Press, the United Press, the International News Service and a representative of the four major radio networks as his train moved east from Seattle, Washington, where he ended his Pacific trip Saturday.

Tanned by the sun and sea air, he appeared in jovial spirits despite the five weeks of travel and the dismal weather he encountered in the far north. He joked with the four newsmen who accompanied him for most of the trip and laughed at statements that some sources read political implications into his journey.

Elmer G. Conner Dies At Hospital

Elmer Green Conner, 52, Fairfield R. 1, died at the Warner hospital this morning at 7:15 o'clock. He was admitted to the hospital Monday and submitted to a major operation.

The deceased moved to Adams county from Virginia 11 years ago and practiced farming. He was a veteran of World War I and was a member of the Albert J. Lentz post, American Legion.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Lucinda Conner, Fairfield R. 1; one brother, Joseph Meadows-of-Dan, Va.; three sisters, Mrs. Ellen Lovell, Basham, Va.; Mrs. Ruth Hampton, Washington, D. C., and Miss Nancy A. Conner, at home.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

C. E. Heintzelman Wounded in France

Pvt. Calvin E. Heintzelman, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Heintzelman, Gettysburg R. D., was slightly wounded by a small piece of shrapnel recently in France according to a letter received by his parents Tuesday.

Pvt. Heintzelman has been awarded the Purple Heart which is being sent to his parents. The wounded soldier, who arrived overseas in May, reveals that he has been advanced to a squad leader and will receive his rating soon.

A brother, Sgt. Charles Heintzelman, is now stationed in England.

Ag. Group Will Assemble Tonight

County Farm Agent M. T. Hartman announced today that the bi-monthly meeting of the executive committee of the Adams County Agricultural Extension Association will be held tonight in the farm agent's office at the court house, at 8:15 o'clock.

A number of reports on agricultural conditions and home economics will be presented, Hartman said. The committee was set up to help farmers to meet their agricultural problems.

INSPECT BRIDGES

Two bridges in Butler township were found by the Adams county commissioners in an inspection trip Wednesday to be in good repair. The commissioners made the trip as part of their weekly meeting at which they transacted other routine business. The structures examined were the iron and wood crossings at the Conewago creek on the Beecherton-Bigerville road and at Opossum creek between Center Mills and Aspers.

LICENSED TO WED

David B. Church, Birmingham, Ala., and Carlotta G. Payne, Fairfield, have secured a marriage license in Frederick.

MERCURY HITS 95 DEGREES

The mercury reached 95 degrees at 1 o'clock today in the official thermometers of Dr. Henry Stewart, local weather observer, making it the seventh successive day temperatures here have gone over the 90-degree mark. The low last night was 73, one degree lower than the previous night.

Rationing Ice If a chilly look is all you get today from the ice man, don't blame him—the heat wave is freezing ice sales in all parts of the state.

With the weatherman predicting continued hot weather for today but possible relief tomorrow, the ice situation shapes up like this:

Pittsburgh is ready to start a voluntary rationing of ice if temperatures continue to sizzle.

Philadelphia plants suspended all sales late yesterday to build up a reserve for increasing demands.

Lewistown started its rationing program with householders limited to 50 pounds each, while Hazleton placed a maximum on all retail sales.

Lancaster, trying to meet a 25 per cent increase, has also adopted a voluntary rationing system.

While most eastern communities reported above 90 temperatures, a rainstorm dropped the mercury under 90 in Pittsburgh for the first time in seven days.

Reading reported a 85-degree peak and said the water situation at nearby Hamburg and Birdsboro was critical.

Allentown with a maximum of 95 degrees experienced its 34th day of the summer with above 90 temperatures.

In Harrisburg, where the mercury reached the 96 mark, weather officials said the accumulated excess in temperature since August 1 is 104 degrees.

ALLIES WILL OCCUPY JAPAN AND GERMANY

By HOWARD FLEIGER

Washington, Aug. 17 (AP)—President Roosevelt returned to Washington today from a 15,000-mile trip into the Pacific to declare that Allied armies will drive in and occupy Germany and Japan even should resistance collapse short of enemy borders.

It was the first definite assertion that Germany and Japan will not be able to use the Allies' own war goal—unconditional surrender—to keep our forces out of their homelands.

This time, the President said, Germany will not escape the military occupation which she dodged by armistice in the First World War.

Mr. Roosevelt made the statement to a news conference aboard his special train as it approached Washington at a time when Allied forces were pushing ashore in powerful new landings on the southern coast of France.

Absent 35 Days

The President—back in Washington after a 35-day absence that took him to Hawaii and the Aleutians where his ship skirted within 900 miles of Japanese territory—planned to discuss his Pacific tour as soon as possible with military leaders and Secretary of State Hull.

He also will meet promptly with Congressional leaders, he said, but he does not intend to make a formal report to Congress.

Asked if he will meet with Senator Harry Truman of Missouri, the President said he will see his vice presidential running mate if the latter's in Washington. The two have had no opportunity to talk things over since the Democratic convention put them together on the fourth term ticket.

Mr. Roosevelt met reporters of the Associated Press, the United Press, the International News Service and a representative of the four major radio networks as his train moved east from Seattle, Washington, where he ended his Pacific trip Saturday.

Tanned by the sun and sea air, he appeared in joyful spirits despite the five weeks of travel and the dismal weather he encountered in the far north. He joked with the four newsmen who accompanied him for most of the trip and laughed at statements that some sources read political implications into his journey.

Elmer G. Conner Dies At Hospital

Elmer Green Conner, 52, Fairfield R. 1, died at the Warner hospital this morning at 7:15 o'clock. He was admitted to the hospital Monday and submitted to major operation.

The deceased moved to Adams county from Virginia 11 years ago and practiced farming. He was a veteran of World War I and was a member of the Albert J. Lentz post, American Legion.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Lucinda Conner, Fairfield R. 1; one brother, Joseph, Meadows-of-Dan, Va.; three sisters, Mrs. Ellen Lovell, Basham, Va.; Mrs. Ruth Hampton, Washington, D. C., and Miss Nancy A. Conner, at home.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

C. E. Heintzelman Wounded In France

Pfc. Calvin E. Heintzelman, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Heintzelman, Gettysburg R. D., was slightly wounded by a small piece of shrapnel recently in France according to a letter received by his parents Tuesday.

Pfc. Heintzelman has been awarded the Purple Heart which is being sent to his parents. The wounded soldier, who arrived overseas in May, reveals that he has been advanced to a squad leader and will receive his rating soon.

A brother, Sgt. Charles Heintzelman, is now stationed in England.

Ag. Group Will Assemble Tonight

County Farm Agent M. T. Hartman announced today that the bi-monthly meeting of the executive committee of the Adams County Agricultural Extension association will be held tonight in the farm agent's office at the court house, at 8:15 o'clock.

A number of reports on agricultural conditions and home economics will be presented, Hartman said. The committee was set up to help farmers to meet their agricultural problems.

INSPECT BRIDGES

Two bridges in Butler township were found by the Adams county commissioners in an inspection trip Wednesday to be in good repair. The commissioners made the trip as part of their weekly meeting at which they transacted other routine business. The structures examined were the iron and wood crossings at the Conewago creek on the Beechertown-Biglerville road and at Opossum creek between Center Mills and Aspers.

MACKMEN BEAT BROWNS 4 TO 2; BOSTON LOSES

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The Wilmington Blue Rocks picked up another win over the second-place Allentown Cardinals and today held a two-game lead in the Interstate League.

The Rocks made the most of six hits and five errors by the Cardinals to stop Allentown 8-6. George Estock hurled six-hit ball until the eighth when a four-run rally by Allentown drove him from the mound. Mitchell Chetkovich took over the relief assignment and checked the Cardinals.

The old gent with the scorecard, who recently celebrated his 50th anniversary as a manager, watched the A's put a 4-2 clip in the Browns last night in the opener of a 4-game series.

St. Louis boasted only a 9-7 season edge in games with Philadelphia with 6 to go. The Mackmen have held Boston even in 14 starts with 8 to be played and lead Detroit 19 to 9 with 3 to go. Among the contenders, only the New York Yankees had a decided bulge on the A's with 11 out of 17.

Russ Christopher stopped the Browns last night for the second time in a row and his fifth straight victory at Jack Kramer's expense. The Browns' 6½ game lead was not affected but the loss served to flash a yellow warning signal of trouble ahead.

Tigers Beat Sox

The Detroit Tigers took the Boston Red Sox into camp, 4-2, on Rudy's 12th homer with two on in the seventh.

New York moved to within a game of second and seven and a half of St. Louis on a dramatic ninth-inning Homer by Bud Stehney with two on that doomed Cleveland, 11-2. Ed Lopat hurled Chicago to a 7-2 victory over Washington although Johnny Niggeling fanned 11 in eight innings for the losers.

In the National, St. Louis set a modern record for reaching win No. 86 on the earliest date by shutting out New York, 5-0, behind Fred Schmidt who usually sees duty only as a relief man.

Pittsburgh took sole possession of second place when rain washed out its game after two innings and Cincinnati fell before Brooklyn's Curt Davis, 3-1, snapping the Dodgers' 5-game losing streak.

Bill Nicholson became the first National Leaguer and third big leaguer to hit two grand slam homers this season when he belted No. 27 with the sacks loaded as Chicago thumped Boston, 11-3.

Penn To Lose Four Navy Grid Stars

Philadelphia, Aug. 17 (AP)—The University of Pennsylvania will lose four Navy trainees on whom Coach George Munger has been counting for football strength. The four to be transferred to Asbury Park (N.J.) Pre-Midshipmen school are Herbert Cokeman, center at Notre Dame last year; Ralph Davis, guard from the University of Wisconsin; Richard Trumbell, who played end at Penn State, and Rowan Crawford, who was also with Penn State last year.

Argentina's coastline extends for more than 2,000 miles.

Wilmington Hikes Lead To 2 Games

(By The Associated Press)
The Wilmington Blue Rocks picked up another win over the second-place Allentown Cardinals and today held a two-game lead in the Interstate League.

The Rocks made the most of six hits and five errors by the Cardinals to stop Allentown 8-6. George Estock hurled six-hit ball until the eighth when a four-run rally by Allentown drove him from the mound. Mitchell Chetkovich took over the relief assignment and checked the Cardinals.

At York, the Trenton packers took their second straight from the A's put a 4-2 clip in the Browns last night in the opener of a 4-game series.

Lancaster and Hagerstown were rained out.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Aug. 17 (AP)—Soldier ball players in the Salt Lake City territory can't play under their own names for other than their camp teams, but nobody has objected to their using "flags" in semi-pro games.

Thus Frank Laramore (Braves) has become "Werne" on special occasions and Clarence (Hooks) Iott, San Antonio and Brooks, has appeared as "Hooks," "Winner" and "Stewart." As a result of Lem Franklin's death in the ring proxy Abe Greene of the N. B. A. suggests that each state establish a board consisting of a physician, a psychiatrist and a boxing expert to examine all worn-out veteran fighters.

Before playing its first intercollegiate football game in 1931, the University of Kentucky had to agree not to use players more than 17 years old. How times haven't changed!

San Francisco's Vic Picetti, who played in the All-American Boys Baseball game here, has had one bona-fide $10,000 offer from a major league club and talked to so many scouts he can't remember all of them.

Jimmy Conzelman's commencement address at Dayton U. a few years ago has been included in William P. Sanford's book on public speaking as an example of the perfect speech.

Lieut. (jg) Willie Turnesa, national amateur golf champ for the duration, recently shot a five-under-par 67 at the Pensacola Naval Air station course although he fired one shot into a tree and had to count it as a lost ball.

Clippers Nose Out Falcons 11-3

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 17 (AP)—The Batavia Clippers nosed the Jamestown Falcons out of second place in the Pony league last night when they chalked up an 11-3 win over the Erie Sailors.

The Clippers scored six runs in the ninth inning, and the Sailors used four pitchers before they could stop the rally.

Batavia pitcher George Patte gave up 13 hits, but was effective with runners on bases.

The scheduled Jamestown-Lockport game was postponed because of rain.

The Wellsville Yankees nicked the Bradford Blue Wings for 17 hits to eke out an 11-10 victory.

Bob Alexander, Yankee pitcher, held the Blue Wings to seven hits in eight innings.

He was replaced in the ninth by Hal Corcoran.

Olean swept its three-game series with the Hornell Pirates with a 5-1 win.

President Fred Hering piloted the Pirates in the game, taking the place of Manager Frank Parenti whose resignation was announced yesterday.

WOMAN WILL TRAIN HUBBY

By TED MEIER

New York, Aug. 17 (AP)—If you think women are poison in the boxing ring, Toby Hatcher may change your mind.

Pretty blonde Toby is the wife of Jimmy Hatcher of Lake City, S. C., who is getting the "big chance" of his lightweight career when he meets Dynamite Ike Williams in Washington on Aug. 28. Since Hatcher's manager, Al Weil, signed for the bout, Toby has taken over completely the training of her hubby.

"This is the chance we've been waiting for for five years," she explained. "And I'm taking no chances that Jimmy won't be in condition. If the District of Columbia athletic commission grants me a second's license I will be in the ring with him at the fight. If my application is turned down I'll be right in the front row giving Jimmy the high sign what to do."

"She isn't kidding, either," chimed in husband Jimmy, recently honorably discharged from the coast guard because of sinus trouble.

"She was in my corner for the second fight of my career, against Gordon Munro at Sarasota, Fla., on Jan. 9, 1940. It's in her blood. I guess. Why, we were married four hours before I fought Joe Lamanah at Sarasota on Feb. 19 of that year. Since then she has supervised my training. Sometimes we even spar and do road work together."

Toby temporarily "retired" from the ring to have a baby boy two years ago. Now that Jimmy is back in civvies, she plans a campaign of body punches to wear down Williams.

EAST VS. WEST IN GOLF TILTS

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 17 (AP)—Championship play in the Professional Golfers Association national tournament furnished an east vs. west picture today as 16 survivors teed off in the 36-hole second round matches at the Manito course.

Six of the eight links battles pitted an entry from the eastern half of the country against a rival from the west.

Byron Nelson of Toledo, Ohio, one of the big favorites, paired off with Mark Fry, Oakland, in the starting match and while the former U. S. Open and PGA title winner was the odds-on favorite, Fry found a few supporters who recalled him as the two-time California Open champion.

Nelson chalked up a 2 and 4 win over Mike De Massey, San Jose, Calif., and Fry won from Neil Christian, Spokane, 2 and 1, in the opening 36-hole round. Nelson was three under par yesterday.

What shaped up as one of the tough competitions of the day brought together Duration U. S. Open Champion Craig Wood, Marmonerock, N. Y., and Art Bell, San Francisco. The former eliminated Jimmy Dangelo, Muskogee, Okla., 3 and 4 yesterday while Bell took a marathon match from Joe Zarhardt, Norristown, Pa., winning on the 37th hole.

High scorer winner of the year, Harold McSpaden, Philadelphia, squared off with an eastern opponent, Fred Annon, Marmonerock, N. Y., and from McSpaden's showing in the first round he figured to romp in today.

MACKMEN BEAT BROWNS 4 TO 2; BOSTON LOSES

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Mr. Baseball from Philadelphia may have the last say in the American league pennant race, although Connie Mack's Athletics today were buried in the bottom half of the standings.

The old gent with the scorecard, who recently celebrated his 50th anniversary as a manager, watched the A's put a 4-2 crisp in the Browns last night in the opener of a 4-game series.

St. Louis boasted only a 9-7 season edge in games with Philadelphia with 6 to go. The Mackmen have held Boston even in 14 starts with 8 to be played and lead Detroit 10 to 9 with 3 to go. Among the contenders, only the New York Yankees had a decided bulge on the A's with 11 out of 17.

Russ Christopher stopped the Browns last night for the second time in a row and his fifth straight victory at Jack Kramer's expense. The Browns' 6% game lead was not affected but the loss served to flash a yellow warning signal of trouble ahead.

Tigers Beat Sox

The Detroit Tigers took the Boston Red Sox into camp, 4-2, on Rudy's 12th homer with two on in the seventh.

New York moved to within a game of second and seven and a half of St. Louis on a dramatic ninth-inning homer by Bud Metheny with two on that doomed Cleveland, 11-8. Ed Lopat hurled Chicago to a 7-2 victory over Washington although Johnny Niggeling fanned 11 in eight innings for the losers.

In the National, St. Louis set a modern record for reaching win No. 80 on the earliest date by shutting out New York, 5-0, behind Fred Schmidt who usually sees duty only as a relief man.

Pittsburgh took sole possession of second place when rain washed out its game after two innings and Cincinnati fell before Brooklyn's Curt Davis, 3-1, snapping the Dodgers' 5-game losing streak.

Bill Nicholson became the first National Leaguer and third big leaguer to hit two grand slam home runs this season when he belted No. 27 with the sacks loaded as Chicago thumped Boston, 11-3.

Dewey excelled such a program in an unexpected and vigorous blast yesterday at what he termed "disturbing reports" that "big four" diplomatic conversations in Washington next week might be directed toward the formation of a permanent four-power alliance to rule the world through spheres of influence.

Scores Big 4 Pact
The New York Governor, who once advocated a post-war military alliance with Great Britain, asserted in the course of an 800-word prepared statement that to leave the long term solution of the problems of peace and security "in the hands of a permanent military alliance of four victorious powers would be immoral."

His intimates said frankly that Dewey was striking at a proposal of President Roosevelt which he interpreted as providing for control of a proposed international peace organization by the United States, Great Britain, Russia and China, along with a fifth rotating council member, and at what he had come to believe was the Russian view favoring outright domination of the association by the four.

Meanwhile, Republican National Chairman Herbert Brownell, Jr., in an interview in New York city, said he had taken action to sue for the restoration of a slate of Georgia Republican electors selected by both negroes and whites.

Declaring the Democratic Georgia secretary of state, John B. Wilson had certified a rival group of Georgia Republican electors selected solely by whites and had disregarded electors chosen by the negro-white faction, Brownell said.

"This is more evidence that New Dealers who slapped down the legitimate claims of the negroes of this country at the New Deal convention in Chicago are maintaining that same attitude as the present time," he said.

The striking policemen were said to have ignored appeals to return to duty, after walking out in protest over appointment of a new high police official.

Both groups had announced for the Dewey-Brownell ticket.

It is not the weakling who gives in. It is usually the strong one, for he has so much great vision. He is not afraid to push his pride aside when the happiness of another is involved. Petty little disputes, and so-called slights often wrangle in ones consciousness. The best procedure is to get rid of them at once, by giving in where it is possible to make things run along smoothly and happy again.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY YEARS AGO

England's Next Ruler to Visit United States: The Prince of Wales, heir apparent to the English throne, was committed by its presidential nominee today to small nation participation in the vital decisions of the peace—after the Allied "big four" smashes the Axis and guides the world through its first rehabilitation efforts.

Confidently declaring that he spoke the party views, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey etched out such a program in an unexpected and vigorous blast yesterday at what he termed "disturbing reports" that "big four" diplomatic conversations in Washington next week might be directed toward the formation of a permanent four-power alliance to rule the world through spheres of influence.

Scores Big 4 Pact

The New York Governor, who once advocated a post-war military alliance with Great Britain, asserted in the course of an 800-word prepared statement that to leave the long term solution of the problems of peace and security "in the hands of a permanent military alliance of four victorious powers would be immoral."

At the home funeral services were read by the Rev. W. C. Robinson, assisted by the Rev. D. W. Wood and the Rev. Smith.

The honorary pallbearers were William A. McIlhenny, Colonel E. B. Cope, John McIlhenny, Hanson Lightner and William Benner.

The active pallbearers were Kerr Lott, Charles Cobean, Hugh McIlhenny, W. A. Bigham, Lawrence Sheds and Andrew Bigham.

Taps were sounded by Fred Swisher.

It has been said that all life is a compromise, and I believe that much of it is. Only the truly great, however, refuse to compromise with bed-rock principles. I have in mind, rather, the little happenings of daily life where there are misunderstandings and misinterpretations. These should be compromised where another's hurt might result, and one's own peace of mind be disturbed.

DEWEY FAVORS SMALL NATION SECURITY PLAN

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 17 (AP)—The Republican party stood firmly committed by its presidential nominee today to small nation participation in the vital decisions of the peace—after the Allied "big four" smashes the Axis and guides the world through its first rehabilitation efforts.

Confidently declaring that he spoke the party views, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey etched out such a program in an unexpected and vigorous blast yesterday at what he termed "disturbing reports" that "big four" diplomatic conversations in Washington next week might be directed toward the formation of a permanent four-power alliance to rule the world through spheres of influence.

Soldiers Prefer Christmas Packages

Philadelphia, Aug. 17 (AP)—Christmas packages for U. S. prisoners of war "tell our boys better than anything else that we remember and are grateful for their sacrifices," D. Basil O'Connor, new National American Red Cross chairman, told volunteer units here yesterday.

O'Connor visited the war food packaging center where workers started packing the first 78,000 Christmas packages going to captives of the Germans.

PARIS HEARS GUNS; PEOPLE ARE PRAYING

London, Aug. 17 (AP)—Paris is now a "front line city" and the thunder of approaching American guns can be heard in the city, the German radio said at 4 p.m. today.

The German report pictured the French capital as a city of chaos without food, transportation or police. The gendarmes were said to be striking.

"The churches are overcrowded and special prayers are being said at Notre Dame," said a Transocean (propaganda) Agency broadcast from Berlin.

For the first time the German tent thunder of guns was heard in Paris this afternoon. The whole aspect of the French capital is assuming that of a front line city.

"The churches are overcrowded and special prayers are being said at Notre Dame," said a Transocean (propaganda) Agency broadcast from Berlin.

For the first time the German command has appealed to the population to remain calm.

The food shortage was declared acute. The whole city was reportedly dependent on community kitchens for meager meals.

The striking policemen were said to have ignored appeals to return to duty, after walking out in protest over appointment of a new high police official.

Dealers who slapped down the legitimate claims of the negroes of this country at the New Deal convention in Chicago are maintaining that same attitude at the present time.

Both groups had announced for the Dewey-Bricker ticket.

YANKS STORM PILLBOX HILL WITH BAYONETS

By HAL BOYLE

St. Malo, France, Aug. 10 (Delayed) (AP)—Behold the capture of the town of St. Malo is the story of how a daring group of infantrymen made a bayonet charge across 400 yards of open territory to dig out Nazis entrenched in concrete pillboxes, blocking the approach to the port.

One-Man Army

We found some Germans lying dead beside their guns, killed by the concussion from shells—but without a mark of any kind on their bodies. When we finished cleaning out the pillboxes, we had 25 prisoners and the ridge line was ours.

Pisarcik, himself known as a "one-man army" to fellow combat engineers, has won a bronze star and Purple Heart with clusters. Said Lt. Joseph Swiden, Youngstown, Ohio: "He was knocked out by an 88 shell when we were back in the hedgerow country, while trying to save the life of a wounded tankman."

Swiden said that Pisarcik saw the injured officer trying to get out of the tank after it was hit by a shell. "He ran up to the tank under fire, picked up the officer and had dragged him five feet away when another 88 shell struck the tank. Behind him we saw a cloud of smoke and then Pisarcik staggered through and fell unconscious, but he was back in action in three days.

"The sad thing was that the officer he was trying to save was killed in his arms when that second shell hit."

Since the outbreak of war, Canada has distributed 583,000 Bibles.

It took a direct artillery hit to knock out these posts.

"It had to be an infantry job because long-range guns couldn't hope to get them all. When the company was ready, we attacked with Capt. Robert A. Mitchell of Bristol, Conn., personally leading. That was the longest 400 yards I ever ran in my life. We caught the Nazis in their concrete holes before they could pull out and gave the bayonet to every one that tried to get away.

Save Many Gallons By Stamp Review

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 17 (AP)—The review of B and C gasoline rations instituted last month in the seven-county Trenton OPA district resulted in a saving of 85,569 gallons of gasoline during July alone, District Rationing Executive E. M. Reidmiller announced today.

This gasoline, Reidmiller said in a statement, would be sufficient to enable the tanks of three armored divisions to make an advance of approximately 120 miles.

The department said reports are delayed sometimes and cited Pittsburgh, where authorities announced 108 cases while the state has re-

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY YEARS AGO
England's Next Ruler to Visit United States: The Prince of Wales, heir apparent to the English throne, polo enthusiast, traveler, and good-looking and wealthy "catch" for some mother's daughter, will visit the United States in September to attend the International Polo matches. The Prince will also be the guest of President and Mrs. Coolidge at a private dinner.

Gettysburgians Seek Heat Relief: Marsh Creek Heights, along with other resorts where water is available for swimming, boating and fishing, was one of the most popular spots in Adams county Sunday, when heat and humidity drove hundreds out of sweltering Gettysburg. At one time one hundred and fifty persons were counted in swimming at Marsh Creek Heights.

Final Tribute Paid Army Vet: "Taps" were sounded over a cedar-lined grave Monday morning in Evergreen cemetery, and all that was once mortal of Theodore McAllister, veteran member of the First Battalion, Maryland Cavalry, was laid to rest.

At the home funeral services were read by the Rev. W. C. Robinson, assisted by the Rev. D. W. Wood and the Rev. Smith.

The honorary pallbearers were William A. McIlhenny, Colonel E. B. Cope, John McIlhenny, Hanson Lightner and William Benner.

The active pallbearers were Kerr Lott, Charles Cobean, Hugh McIlhenny, W. A. Bigham, Lawrence Sheds and Andrew Bigham.

Taps were sounded by Fred Swisher.

May Establish Dirigible Routes: Count Eric von Zeppelin, nephew of the inventor of the Zeppelin dirigibles, has just sailed for Europe after a two-months tour of America, during which he studied the practicability of establishing commercial Zeppelin routes in the United States.

Plan Ambulance for Gettysburg: The next proposition to be undertaken by the Gettysburg Fire company will be the securing of an ambulance to be operated by it for the benefit of the Annie M. Warner hospital. This was the consensus of opinion of members of the fire company at their regular August meeting Wednesday evening.

Fire Chief James B. Aumen reported to the company that the doctors of Gettysburg have approached him to enlist his aid and that of the fire company, in an effort to raise funds for an ambulance.

Double Funeral Held Thursday: Services for Mrs. Emma Stahle, the mother, and Mrs. Retta Stahle, the wife of Robert N. Stahle, of Washington, D. C., both of whose lives were snuffed out in an automobile accident near Hagerstown, Monday afternoon, were held from the home of Charles E. Stahle, Esq., Broadway, brother-in-law for the elder Mrs. Stahle.

Gettysburg Girl Wedded in July: Miss Mae Bell Little, formerly of Gettysburg, but now of Washington, and Thomas R. Brooks, of Washington, D. C., were married at Trinity Episcopal church, Upper Marlboro, Md., July 25, according to an announcement made recently. The Rev. Francis E. McManus performed the ceremony.

None of us is so right that he can afford to travel alone in such an interesting world as this is. There is both a physical and spiritual back-wash to misunderstandings that disturb the mind. What a loneliness there is to those who refuse to give in!

In the home, in business, in politics, religion, and in government, we see how disastrous it is not to give in when things get embroiled and need the calming of understanding. They used to call Henry Clay "the Great Pacifier." A wonderful title for any of us to own.

Abraham Lincoln had this quality, or shall we call it genius, of smoothing things over so that the greatest good to all might result. He was always patient and understanding—even to his enemies—of whom there were plenty in his own official family.

I am happy to know that these simple talks were once the means of uniting two brothers who for long were most unfriendly. I hope that this one will help to do the same, in many another instance.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Progress Through Growth."

WANT LONGER WEEK

Philadelphia, Aug. 17 (AP)—Carl B. Harr, area War Manpower commission director, reports that employers' forms received to date indicate a majority of industries here will ask exemptions from the 48-hour week. The WMC has ordered essential industries in this area to go on the longer week Sept. 1, and non-essential business to take similar action Oct. 1.

DEWEY FAVORS SMALL NATION SECURITY PLAN

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 17 (AP)—The Republican party stood firmly committed by its presidential nominee today to small nation participation in the vital decisions of the peace—after the Allied "big four" smashes the Axis and guides the world through its first rehabilitation efforts.

Confidently declaring that he spoke the party views, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey etched out such a program in an unexpected and vigorous blast yesterday at what he termed "disturbing reports" that "big four" diplomatic conversations in Washington next week might be directed toward the formation of a permanent four-power alliance to rule the world through spheres of influence.

Scores Big 4 Pact

The New York Governor, who once advocated a post-war military alliance with Great Britain, asserted in the course of an 800-word prepared statement that to leave the long term solution of the problems of peace and security "in the hands of a permanent military alliance of four victorious powers would be immoral."

His intimates said frankly that Dewey was striking at a proposal of President Roosevelt which he interpreted as proposed for control of a proposed international peace organization by the United States, Great Britain, Russia and China, along with a fifth rotating council member, and at what he had come to believe was the Russian view favoring outright domination of the association by the four.

Meanwhile, Republican National Chairman Herbert Brownell, Jr., in an interview in New York city, said he had taken action to sue for the restoration of a slate of Georgia Republican electors selected by both negroes and whites.

Declaring the Democratic Georgia secretary of state, John B. Wilson, had certified a rival group of Georgia Republican electors selected solely by whites and had disregarded electors chosen by the negro-white faction, Brownell said:

"This is more evidence that New

Dealers who slapped down the legitimate claims of the negroes of this country at the New Deal convention in Chicago are maintaining that same attitude at the present time.

Both groups had announced for the Dewey-Bricker ticket.

Soldiers Prefer Christmas Packages

Philadelphia, Aug. 17 (AP)—Christmas packages for U. S. prisoners of war "tell our boys better than anything else that we remember and are grateful for their sacrifices." D. Basil O'Connor, new National American Red Cross chairman, told volunteer units here yesterday.

O'Connor visited the war food packaging center where workers started packing the first 78,000 Christmas packages going to captives of the Germans.

PARIS HEARS GUNS; PEOPLE ARE PRAYING

London, Aug. 17 (AP)—Paris is now a "front line city" and the thunder of approaching American guns can be heard in the city, the German radio said at 4 p.m. today.

The German report pictured the French capital as city of chaos without food, transportation or police. The gendarmes were said to be striking.

The churches are overcrowded and special prayers are being said at Notre Dame," said a Transocean (propaganda) Agency broadcast from Berlin.

The food shortage was declared acute. The whole city was reported dependent on community kitchens for meager meals.

The striking policemen were said to have ignored appeals to return to duty, after walking out in protest over appointment of a new high police official.

YANKS STORM PILLBOX HILL WITH BAYONETS

By HAL BOYLE

St. Malo, France, Aug. 10 (De-layed) (AP)—Behind the capture of the town of St. Malo is the story of how a daring group of infantrymen made a bayonet charge across 400 yards of open territory to dig out Nazis entrenched in concrete pillboxes, blocking the approach to the port.

With them went little Lt. John Pisarcik, chunky combat engineer from Simpson, Pa., who's had more than one man's share of battle thrills since landing in France.

Pisarcik, himself known as "one-man army" to fellow combat engineers, has won a bronze star and Purple Heart with clusters. Said Lt. Joseph Swiden, Youngstown, Ohio:

"He was knocked out by an 88 shell when we were back in the hedgerow country, while trying to save the life of a wounded tankman."

Swiden said that Pisarcik saw the injured officer trying to get out of the tank after it was hit by a shell. "He ran up to the tank under fire, picked up the officer and had dragged him five feet away when another 88 shell struck the tank. Behind him we saw a cloud of smoke and then Pisarcik staggered through and fell unconscious, but he was back in action in three days.

"The sad thing was that the officer he was trying to save was killed in his arms when that second shell hit."

Since the outbreak of war, Canada has distributed 583,000 Bibles.

It took a direct artillery hit to knock out these posts.

"It had to be an infantry job because long-range guns couldn't hope to get them all. When the company was ready, we attacked with Capt. Robert A. Mitchell of Bristol, Conn., personally leading. That was the longest 400 yards I ever ran in my life. We caught the Nazis in their concrete holes before they could pull out and gave the bayonet to every one that tried to get away."

One-Man Army

"We found some Germans lying dead beside their guns, killed by the concussion from shells—but without a mark of any kind on their bodies. When we finished cleaning out the pillboxes, we had 25 prisoners and the ridge line was ours."

Health Secretary Dr. A. H. Stewart said persons should not use swimming pools "unless they know that the water has been treated and changed frequently."

A new electroplating process for making the cans is not only much faster but will save the industry an estimated 1,200,000 tons of tin a year.

POLIO CASES ARE SPREADING

Harrisburg, Aug. 17 (AP)—Although the state Health Department listed no additional infantile paralysis cases, reports from local health officials of the commonwealth indicated the disease is still spreading.

The department said reports are delayed sometimes and cited Pittsburgh, where authorities announced 108 cases while the state has received records of only 94.

Dr. Rufus S. Reeves, Philadelphia director of public health, said five new cases brought the city's total to 84. The health official said he has reached no decision on closing the city's swimming pools.

Latest reports from Tioga county show 74 cases in that sector, while in Lancaster the death of a 15-year-old boy brought fatalities to three there are 11 cases in the county.

Health Secretary Dr. A. H. Stewart said persons should not use swimming pools "unless they know that the water has been treated and changed frequently."

Save Many Gallons By Stamp Review

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 17 (AP)—The review of B and C gasoline rations instituted last month in the seven-county Trenton OPA district resulted in a saving of 85,568 gallons of gasoline during July alone, District Rationing Executive E. M. Reidmiller announced today.

This gasoline, Reidmiller said in a statement, would be sufficient to enable the tanks of three armored divisions to make an advance of approximately 120 miles.

SOVIET GUNS POUND WEDGE NEAR WARSAW

Using Spears To Catch Fish

By DANIEL DE LUCE

MOSCOW, Aug. 17 (AP)—The Russians smashed back today with hundreds of field guns at the narrow wedge driven by Nazi tanks and infantry into Ossow, seven miles northeast of Warsaw, in the first Soviet setback since the start of the summer offensive.

The army newspaper Red Star said the Nazis were under severe pressure after losing 68 tanks and suffering several thousand casualties in a two-day counterattack from the Praga district, just opposite Warsaw.

At least one SS (Elite Guard) division was reported put out of action.

Withdraw From Action

This and other Red Army successes elsewhere on the long eastern front balanced the withdrawal from Ossow.

Soviet forces west of the Vistaia south of Warsaw smashed into the city of Sandomierz in the battle to expand a bridgehead that threatens to outflank the Polish capital and Imperil the Nazi defense of German Silesia.

This development was viewed in some Moscow quarters as more significant news than the giving of ground northeast of Warsaw.

Some Moscow commentators saw the withdrawal from Ossow as the prelude to the opening of a Red Army drive to crush the Nazis in the center. Indications were that the Russians have the situation in hand on the entire front, and that the grand strategy and offensive lies with them.

Russian troops in Estonia captured 70 additional places in the drive beyond Lake Pskov toward the Baltic Sea.

Nazi Counter-Blow

Hurling in large groups of infantry and tanks north and northwest of Siauliai in Lithuania, the Germans also mounted a large counter-blown there. A Russian war bulletin, however, announced that the Nazis were repelled in that sector and military men apparently were not concerned over the situation there.

perishable foods as consumer demands and transportation increase.

Drought Menace

Drought conditions in some areas, if continued, may seriously effect production from the state's record acreage of tomatoes, the agricultural department reported.

Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst said that insufficient moisture is causing "blossom end rot," and that some of the fruit was beginning to "cook" on the vines, showing yellowish tops.

Water Shortage

The prolonged dry spell also threatens rural areas with a water shortage.

J. W. Mangan, chief of the U. S. geological survey, said today the state's stream levels and the ground water table supplying springs and wells were low, and that the drought situation will become serious if high temperatures and dry weather continues throughout August and into September.

SECOND BROOD CORN BORER IS EXPECTED SOON

HARRISBURG, Aug. 17 (AP)—With a weather eye cocked skyward in hope of extensive rains for parched crops and dry pastures, Pennsylvania farmers this week started control measures for the season's second brood of European corn borers.

The bureau of plant industry suggested farmers and victory gardeners make immediate application of rotenone and fixed nicotine, since practically all second brood eggs will be hatched by Aug. 19.

Dr. Thomas L. Guyton, bureau director, said the border showed higher rate of infestation this year than last due to inability of farmers and gardeners to dispose of last year's corn stalks, stubble and other plant debris by burning or plowing them under.

Adult moths are brown, grain-fed hoppers.

SHEEP—50. Nominal steady, strictly good and choice spring lambs, 70 pounds and up, $14.75—15.25, latter price the top; combed and uncombed, $12.75—13.50; culs down to $3; fat lightweight slaughter weight $5; culs down to $1.

Burn Stalk Refuse

The director said corn growers should shred, plow or burn all stalk refuse to prevent greater destruction by the borer next year.

Growers in some sections of the state are cooperating with retailers in plan to have corn-on-the-cob served on the table the same day it is pulled from the stalk in the field.

Farmers roll out of bed at 3 a.m. and start harvesting their corn by tractor headlights. At dawn they are on their way to city markets where customers eagerly buy and serve the ears while tender and juicy. Under most contracts the delivery deadline at the store is 11 a.m.

Using Spears To Catch Fish

Gowango, Pa., Aug. 17 (AP)—Seneca reservation Indians, reverting to the primitive tools of their forefathers, are taking game fish by the score from the waters of the Allegheny river these days.

The fish, seeking escape from the usually low waters, apparently are attempting to reach the cold waters flowing from Cold Spring, about a mile below the New York state line. The Indians, who do not have to observe game laws, are using crude spears to catch the fish in the shallow riffles.

The army newspaper Red Star said the Nazis were under severe pressure after losing 68 tanks and suffering several thousand casualties in a two-day counterattack from the Praga district, just opposite Warsaw.

At least one SS (Elite Guard) division was reported put out of action.

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES, THURSDAY, AUGUST 17, 1944

Story Of Founding Of Historic Emmitsburg, Maryland

At this time the town has the following very aged residents: Lewis M. Motter, 91 years; Mrs. Henry Wimer, 90; Samuel Flatt, 90; Mrs. John Barry, 89; Mrs. Thomas Bushman, 88.

A partial list of old persons dying within twenty-five years: John Clark, 90; Mrs. John Favourite, 95; James Knauft, 91; Frederick Black, 88; Eli Sheets, 91; Mrs. William Floor, 91; Mrs. William Frame, 89; George Winter, 89; Mrs. Catherine Jackson, 92; Lewis Worz, 87; Mrs. John Mayhue, 94; Mrs. Abby, 92; Dr. A. Annan, 91; Dr. J. W. Eichelberger, 91; Kate Call, 90; Mrs. N. Sebold, 94; Mrs. T. Barton, 88; Mrs. William Moser, 90; Mrs. T. Petticord, 87; Mrs. A. McBride, 87; Mrs. Joseph Eckenrode, 87; Mrs. Gorely, 87; Mrs. Joseph Reeves, 94; Mrs. C. Riddlemoser, 90; Mrs. John Singer, 92; George Krise, 91; John Hockensmith, 87; Mrs. Joseph Danner, 92; Catherine Hinkle, 89; Lydia Krise, 88; Mrs. John Stoss, 89; Mrs. James Oehler, 92; Mrs. Jacob Brown, 91; Peter Settlemeyer, 87; Betsy Miller, 86; Mrs. John Dorsey, 86; Mrs. George Overman, 94; Maria Cousan, 93; Ann Coats, 89; William Richardson, 91; Mrs. W. Richardson, 91; Mrs. El Smith, 88; Mrs. H. Poller, 91; Mrs. D. Whitmore, 90; Mrs. G. Topper, 88; John Mortimer, 88; John Neck, 86.

St. Joseph's House

In the year 1802, through the generosity of Samuel Cooper, the money to purchase ground for this institution was supplied. In deciding the locality Mr. Dubourg was favorable to Baltimore city. Mr. Cooper insisted upon the selection of Emmitsburg, Md., as a more convenient situation, as its physical and moral advantages were preferable to Baltimore. Then the priest (Dubourg) replied, "Be it Emmitsburg."

The vicinity of Emmitsburg having been selected for the location of the sisterhood projected by Mrs. Seton; now an eligible site was to be purchased. Mr. Duourg visited the town in 1802, and bought the land now owned by St. Joseph's from Robert Flemming. At that time this tract of land had a small stone house, part of the old wash house. The property was settled in the joint tenancy of Rev. William V. Dubourg, Rev. John Dubois and Samuel Cooper. Tradition says, after Robert Flemming had agreed to take the specified amount, he afterward changed his mind. To get out of it honorably he would only sell at the price named, providing the amount was cash and in gold; this he thought was an impossibility. To his utter surprise they brought him the gold in the given time.

Mother Seton was instrumental in the establishment of this world-wide institution; the progress made by it in all its branches, whether as a convent, a school or an architectural development, it is not surpassed. One mammoth edifice after another has been added from time to time, until the present climax stands as a memorial to Mother Rev.

Seton, as well as the handsome marble monument erected by the sisterhood community.

Occupy Building

They occupied their first building February 20, 1820. The property up till 1816 had been held by the Rev. Samuel Cooper, its generous benefactor. He deemed it the proper thing to incorporate it, and had an act passed or incorporation of the sisterhood by the legislature of Maryland, January, 1817. The farm then in their possession was transferred to them in their own right, by those who previously held it.

Around this institution cluster memories of many from the Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico. Sufficiently their progressive work has gone on, until the perfection arrived at was consummated. Many are the hearts made glad by a returning visit to this valley. The alumnae organization gives proof of the early impressions made here. They join in chorus, swelling the volume of praise to their alma mater each year. The excellent condition of the grounds give evidence of the aesthetic culture so lavishly displayed; how tame and ordinary the condition usually around the farm houses, not so on the farm attached to St. Joseph's.

How inviting, how expansive the improved landscape, how fragrant the air as it is wafted from luxuriant beds of flowers; then the outlying scene as they stretch west to old Carrick's Knob, climb it, and see that valley of verdure as it spreads before us; the silver stream, Toms creek, running like a silver thread from the mountain to the farthest extent of this extensive tract of land. Greater expectations than Mother Seton's have been accomplished, through the efficient women who have controlled the affairs of this institution ever since; progress has only been unceasing here, the full fruitage will be gathered later on. When in its fullest development the word will be enclosed.

Official Heads

The official head of the institution from the beginning:

Mother E. A. Seton, 1803 to 1821; Mother Rose White, 1821 to 1827; Mother Augustine DeCount, 1827 to 1822; Mother Rose White, 1833 to 1839; Mother Xavier Clark, 1839 to 1845; Mother Mary Etienne Hall, 1845 to 1855; Mother Regina Smutn, 1855 to 1860; Mother Ann Simeon, 1860 to 1864; Mother Eupherina, Mother Mariana, Mother Margaret.

In the cemetery adjoining the convent, enclosed by a brick wall, in the centre of a wood, are interred the bodies of the sisters dying at the mother institution. There singular as it may read, lie the bodies of five of the Seton family. The first buried in this cemetery was Miss Parrott Seton, December 29, 1809; Miss Cecilia Seton, April 30, 1810; Miss Anna Seton, March 12, 1812; Miss Rebecca Seton, 1816; Mother Seton, January 4, 1821. Is it not strange, the first five interments should be the members of one family? There also rests the body of Archbishop Bailey, Rev. Burlando, Rev. Gandalfo, Rev. Mandine, Rev.

St. Joseph's House

In the year 1808, through the generosity of Samuel Cooper, the money to purchase ground for this institution was supplied. In deciding the locality Mr. Dubourg was favorable to Baltimore city. Mr. Cooper insisted upon the selection of Emmitsburg, Md., as a more convenient situation, as its physical and moral advantages were preferable to Baltimore. Then the priest (Dubourg) replied: "Be it Emmitsburg."

The vicinity of Emmitsburg having been selected for the location of the sisterhood projected by Mrs. Seton; now an eligible sight was to be purchased. Mr. Dubourg visited the town in 1808, and bought the land now owned by St. Joseph's from Robert Flemming. At that time this tract of land had a small stone house, part of the old wash house. The property was settled in the joint tenancy of Rev. William V. Dubourg, Rev. John Dubois and Samuel Cooper. Tradition says, after Robert Flemming had agreed to take the specified amount, he afterward changed his mind. To get out of it honorably he would only sell at the price named, providing the amount was cash and in gold; this he thought was an impossibility. To his utter surprise they brought him the gold in the given time.

Mother Seton was instrumental in the establishment of this world-wide institution; the progress made by it in all its branches, whether as a convent, a school or an architectural development, it is not surpassed. One mammoth edifice after another has been added from time to time, until the present climax stands as a memorial to Mother

Seton, as well as the handsome marble monument erected by the sisterhood community.

Occupy Building

They occupied their first building February 20, 1810. The property up till 1816 had been held by the Rev. Samuel Cooper, its generous benefactor. He deemed it the proper thing to incorporate it, and had an act passed of incorporation of the sisterhood by the legislature of Maryland, January, 1817. The farm then in their possession was transferred to them in their own right, by those who previously held it.

Around this institution cluster memories of many from the Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico. Sufficiently their progressive work has gone on, until the perfection arrived at was consummated. Many are the hearts made glad by a returning visit to this valley. The alumnae organization gives proof of the early impressions made here. They join in chorus, swelling the volume of praise to their alma mater each year. The excellent condition of the grounds give evidence of the aesthetic culture so lavishly displayed; how tame and ordinary the condition usually around the farm houses, not so on the farm attached to St. Joseph's.

How inviting, how expansive the improved landscape, how fragrant the air as it is wafted from luxuriant beds of flowers; then the outstanding scene as they stretch west to old Carrick's Knob, climb it, and see that valley of verdure as it spreads before us; the silver stream, Toms creek, running like a silver thread from the mountain to the farthest extent of this extensive tract of land. Greater expectations than Mother Seton's have been accomplished, through the efficient women who have controlled the affairs of this institution ever since; progress has only been initiated here, the full fruitage will be gathered later on. When in its fullest development the word will be extensor.

Official Heads

The official head of the institution from the beginning:

In the cemetery adjoining the convent, enclosed by a brick wall, in the centre of a wood, are interred the bodies of the sisters dying at the mother institution. There, singular as it may read, lie the bodies of five of the Seton family. The first buried in this cemetery was Miss Harriet Seton, December 22, 1809; Miss Cecilia Seton, April 30, 1810; Miss Anna Seton, March 12, 1812; Miss Rebecca Seton, 1816; Mother Seton, January 4, 1821. Is it not strange, the first five interments should be the members of one family? There also rests the body of Archbishop Bailey, Rev. Burlando, Rev. Gandolfo, Rev. Mandine, Rev.

REGIONAL PACT SUGGESTED FOR WORLD PEACE

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Washington, Aug. 17 (AP)—Proposals for a sort of regionalized responsibility for peace on the part of the Big Four nations were heard today, along with reports that Secretary of State Hull is ready with a reply to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's expressed worries about the post-war place for small nations.

Hull on previous occasions has emphasized an American intention to see to it that small nations have their interests protected and indications were that he would follow the same line in any comment on the Republican presidential nominee's protests.

While saying "it is good" that representatives of the American, British, Russian and Chinese governments are getting together for peace-maintenance talks beginning here next Monday, Dewey emphasized in a statement yesterday that he is disturbed by the possibility of a permanent four-power alliance to dominate the world through "cynical power politics."

World Division
The talk of a regionalized-peace-security arrangement, gaining favor in military circles here, is on the basis of sharing primary responsibility roughly along these lines:

United States—Western hemisphere and Pacific.

Soviet Union—Eastern Europe and, jointly with China, eastern Asia.

China—The Orient, in conjunction with Russia in east Asia and the United States in the area of the Pacific around Japan.

Britain—Western Europe, including the Mediterranean area, with joint responsibility with Russia in the Middle East.

Under this arrangement France, Brazil, Australia and other nations would be counted in on the decisions involving their areas of primary interests, and, as rapidly as they were able, would be expected to help out in any cases involving use of force.

Missing Baby Is Found By Police

Marysville, Pa., Aug. 17 (AP)—Charles Bishop, 23-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Bishop, Marysville, was found Wednesday by state police in a mountain road a mile from nearby Lamb's Gap after wandering into the woods last night.

Police said the child, barefoot and attired in a sunset, was apparently unharmed after spending a night in the Cumberland county mountains south of here. The boy had left the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith where he was staying while both his parents were at work.

REGIONAL PACT SUGGESTED FOR WORLD PEACE

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Aug. 17 (AP)—Proposals for a sort of regionalized responsibility for peace on the part of the Big Four nations were heard today, along with reports that Secretary of the State Hull is ready with a reply to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's expressed worries about the post-war place for small nations.

Hull on previous occasions has emphasized an American intention to see to it that small nations have their interests protected and indications were that he would follow the same line in any comment on the Republican presidential nominee's protests.

While saying "it is good" that representatives of the American, British, Russian and Chinese governments are getting together for peace-maintenance talks beginning here next Monday, Dewey emphasized in a statement yesterday that he is disturbed by the possibility of a permanent four-power alliance to dominate the world through "cynical power politics."

World Division

The talk of a regionalized-peace-security arrangement, gaining favor in military circles here, is on the basis of sharing primary responsibility roughly along these lines:

United States—Western hemisphere and Pacific.

Soviet Union—Eastern Europe and, jointly with China, eastern Asia.

China—The Orient, in conjunction with Russia in east Asia and the United States in the area of the Pacific around Japan.

Britain—Western Europe, including the Mediterranean area, with joint responsibility with Russia in the Middle East.

Under this arrangement France, Brazil, Australia and other nations would be counted in on the decisions involving their areas of primary interests, and, as rapidly as they were able, would be expected to help out in any cases involving use of force.

Missing Baby Is Found By Police

Marysville, Pa., Aug. 17 (AP)—Charles Bishop, 23-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Bishop, Marysville, was found Wednesday by state police in a mountain road a mile from nearby Lamb's Gap after wandering into the woods last night.

Police said the child, barefoot and attired in a sunset, was apparently unharmed after spending a night in the Cumberland county mountains south of here. The boy had left the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith where he was staying while both his parents were at work.

MARTIN WANTS BETTER NATION FOR VETERANS

Harrisburg, Aug. 17 (AP)—Governor Martin told the Pennsylvania American Legion today "Our boys must come back to the kind of government they are fighting to protect and maintain."

"We want for them and for all of us a country governed by laws and not by men," he said in an address prepared for a joint session of the department Legion auxiliary as main sessions of the 28th convention got under way.

Declaring service men know the difficulties of solving problems of veterans after World War I, Martin said:

"They have seen buddies go through life without rehabilitation. They have seen the men who stayed at home take their old jobs. They have seen governmental economy at the expense of the veterans."

Non-Partisan Talk

"They have seen their comrades attacked by American soldiers when these veterans were petitioning their own government."

"What I am saying is non partisan and it applies to both political parties," he said. "The Legion and other veterans' organizations know what has been and what has not been done. They are the voices that should speak—they are not those who are trying to climb into office over the shoulders of the veterans."

Saying a G-I bill is not enough, Martin insisted government cannot do all that should be done for the veteran but that his family, his church and organizations of servicemen share in the responsibility for his guidance back into the world of peace."

The four-day convention, which is expected to bring 2,700 delegates here, opened yesterday with a service officers' conference on rehabilitation. Harry J. Crosson, regional manager of the United States Veterans Administration, urged Legionnaires to persuade World War II veterans to take vocational training.

Chapter 11

She couldn't keep the quick color out of her face, but she could lift carefully cool eyes to Cappy's and ask, puzzled, "Who'd be with Uncle Frank?"

Cappy set a wily trap. "Joe maybe. He was up in that part of the country . . ."

"Joe?" Relief blinded her to the fact that Cappy was far too smart to believe she was in love with an Island drifter, twenty years her senior. She saw only a loophole of escape. She said, "How did you guess, Cappy? Yes, Joe—"

Cappy snorted. "You're no good at lyin', Lucky! I'd never have believed you, even if I hadn't heard the dockmaster tell you Joe'd set out for Bimini in his boat soon's he come back."

"Oh."

Cappy looked at the slight figure, his eyes pitying. "Leave the bright road, Lucky. I'll have time for it."

But she wouldn't let herself off. She finished the varnish, wrung out the chamois and put it in a bucket of clean water as she'd been trained to do. Then, hurrying frantically, she went down the companionway and off along the narrow passage to her single stateroom next to the engine compartment.

There she changed from her shorts to a white pique dress, stunning against her brown skin, and pulled a gay blue pique hat from a cubbyhole over her high bunk. Turning to the mirror, she stopped at the sight of herself. Lucky saw a shine on her nose and took a moment to smooth her face with her own blended shade of powder and to freshen her lipstick.

Then in a belated frenzy to go gone, she rushed out and up the companionway.

At the top she stopped, every nerve in her body caught in petrified stillness.

There on Blue Dolphin's deck, in the white Florida sunshine, stood Thad.

She couldn't analyze her emotions—only that they were chaotic. Thad, not the shadow in her heart, but real—a tall man with bright red hair in a white Palm Beach and a blue shirt that matched his eyes, who was holding out his hand and smiling down at her with friendliness.

She finally managed to form words. "Oh, hello, Thad."

"Hi, Lucky."

She turned quickly, afraid she'd show him the turbulence his presence made in her, and saw her uncle on the dock beside Cappy. He was dressed in white, too, but his face under the graying hair was red with sunburn.

In the flash before she stepped up to greet him, she saw Cappy's expression. His faded old eyes were twinkling with secret excitement.

It made her uneasy.

She showed them over the schooner. She had herself in hand now. The weeks of discipline helped. She could treat Thad with cool courtesy, hiding the quivering awareness that she had been followed.

Then they were in her father's study, ready now for May and Ben. "She said, 'I've put all Father's stuff he didn't take to Mexico in this big locker.' She tugged at the brass knob. It stuck. Thad reached to help her. His fingers, warm and firm and alive, closed over hers.

For one dizzy second she thought she was going to faint. This—this was the way it would always be. The touch of his hand, and fire swept over her, eating the very bones out of her body till she was limp and helpless.

She stepped back, steady her self against the nautical blue-and-white cover on the high bunk.

"It's so—so hot—down here," she said faintly. "Let's get on deck."

They followed her up the companionway and after to the cockpit, which was gay with new red leather cushions on each of the long narrow seats and the wider thwartship seat. She dropped down beside Uncle Frank, looking at him determinedly.

In spite of that she heard only the last part of what he was saying. ". . . have to go back today. Our case has been postponed ten days."

"Ten days? What a shame!" But she was thinking, "He'll be here when we get back from Nassau And I'm glad! It's crazy . . . but I am."

Cappy had spoken from the dock. ". . . cruise them ten days with us? Both of you?"

Lucky's head jerked up. Thad was with them? Blood drummed in her ears. To be with him, day after day . . . But it would be torture, too. She shouldn't let it happen.

With the U. S. Third Army In France, Aug. 15 (Delayed) (AP)—

Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's breakthrough from the Cherbourg peninsula has been a typical Patton page. He sent his tanks storming forward and when they hit something they couldn't crack immediately, he sent them around it.

Patton, who knows what the inside of the doghouse looks like, had 43 correspondents in it for 24 hours.

For a month he and his prospective command were supposed to be a military secret and during that time word got around that somebody had blabbed. He ordered correspondents confined to quarters but released them when he found out they were not the offenders.

In fact, his presence was another one of the war's worst kept secrets. Everybody, it seems, knew he was here. The Nazis repeatedly talked about the activity of "General Patton's Third Army."

MARTIN WANTS BETTER NATION FOR VETERANS

Harrisburg, Aug. 17 (AP)—Governor Martin told the Pennsylvania American Legion today "Our boys must come back to the kind of government they are fighting to protect and maintain."

"We want for them and for all of us a country governed by laws and not by men," he said in an address prepared for a joint session of the department Legion auxiliary as main sessions of the 26th convention got underway.

Declaring service men know the difficulties of solving problems of veterans after World War I, Martin said:

"They have seen buddies go through life without rehabilitation. They have seen the men who stayed at home take their old jobs. They have seen governmental economy at the expense of the veterans."

Non-Partisan Talk

"They have seen their comrades attacked by American soldiers when these veterans were petitioning their own government."

"What I am saying is non partisan and it applies to both political parties," he said. "The Legion and other veterans' organizations know what has been and what has not been done. They are the voices that should speak—they are not those who are trying to climb into office over the shoulders of the veterans."

Saying a G-I bill is not enough, Martin insisted government cannot do all that should be done for the veteran but that his family, his church and organizations of servicemen share in the responsibility for his guidance back into the world of peace."

The four-day convention, which is expected to bring 2,700 delegates here, opened yesterday with a service officers' conference on rehabilitation. Harry J. Crosson, regional manager of the United States Veterans Administration, urged Legionnaires to persuade World War II veterans to take vocational training.

SEES PIPELINE AS THREAT TO COAL INDUSTRY

Washington, Aug. 17 (AP)—Post-war conversion of big new petroleum pipelines from the southwest to the east as natural gas carriers in the postwar era is seen by Rep. Walter (D., Pa.) as a threat to the nation's future economic security.

The proposed conversion would bring an estimated 130 billion cubic feet of gas a year into the eastern areas served by anthracite for residential space-heating, Walter said, and jeopardize the entire coal industry.

In remarks inserted in the Congressional Record, Walter declared that Sidney S. Swensrud, vice president, Standard Oil Company (Ohio), recently proposed the postwar changeover of the "Big-Inch" and 20-inch pipelines, contending that tankers again would take over the petroleum transportation business and that natural gas could be delivered and sold more cheaply than manufactured gas and other fuel presently utilized in the New York-New Jersey-Philadelphia area.

"Since gas is laborless to a degree that exceeds any other fuel, it is obvious that coal cannot compete in this market against natural gas at low cost," he said.

$165,000,000 Spent

"A postwar destruction of the primary markets of anthracite would be accompanied, undoubtedly by the loss of many thousands of jobs for miners, the bankruptcy of many mining companies and the destruction of invaluable natural resources."

Government expenditure on the pipelines has totaled $165,000,000 and while at first blush it may seem economically justified to utilize these facilities after the war, the conversion effect on the anthracite industry, as well as bituminous coal, would cost the government many times that amount, Walter said, in relief and rehabilitation cost.

In this connection he recalled that public assistance expenditures in the anthracite region during the 10-year period 1933-1942 approached "one third of a billion dollars."

Converting the pipelines to gas, he declared, would be "tantamount to subsidizing a laborless fuel in order to destroy the anthracite industry whose cost is roughly 70 per cent labor." The conversion, he added, would constitute "a specific defeat of the nation's effort to secure maximum employment in the postwar period."

2 Hospitals Share $1,910 After Death

Portland, Ore., Aug. 17 (AP)—There were no flowers at Jimmie Lou's funeral—so two children's hospitals are $1,910.64 richer.

Jimmie Lou, 11, daughter of shipbuilder Jim Butler, died. Some of the boys thought a big spray would be nice—but

"Don't buy flowers," said Jim. "Send the money to children's hospitals."

The boys passed the hat—$800 the first day. The $1,910.64 was sent to the hospitals today.

SEEK TO HALT WORK STOPPAGE IN NINE MINES

Pittsburgh, Aug. 17 (AP)—United Mine Workers officials and Federal conciliators today attempted to halt work stoppages in nine western Pennsylvania coal mines that threw more than 4,000 men into idleness and stopped production of thousands of tons of coal daily.

Meanwhile, 125 employees of the Big Bend Coal company at Twin Rocks, Cambria county, and 130 men of the Arcadia mine of the New York Central Coal division returned to work. The Big Ben miners had been out three days, the Arcadia workers two weeks.

Latest walkout was among 900 employees of the Heisley Coal company, at Nanty Glo, in Cambria county. They protested docking of wages of two men who left their jobs when the company said they had failed to complete a day's work. A spokesman for the workers said the two men had demanded full pay after being sent home by a foreman for failure to properly post a section of the mine.

Gas Seepage

About 1,500 employees of the three Clyde mines in Greene county remained away from their jobs, saying they would not re-enter the pits until they were convinced gas from the adjacent Emerald mine in which six men lost their lives in a fire recently would not seep into their workings.

A spokesman for the men emphasized they were not on strike. Miners at the Clyde Mine No. 2 met last night, but postponed action on a back-to-work vote until Friday. The mine is operated by Hillman Coal & Coke company. Clyde Mines 1 and 3 are operated by Republic Steel company.

Other mines strikebound because of varied grievances include the Isatella mine of Weirton Steel company, Fayette county, 860 men; Crucible Mine of Crucible Steel company, Greene county, 780 men; Westmoreland Coal company's Magee mine, Westmoreland county, 120 men; Pine Run mine near Leechburg, 32 men, and Miller mine, near Oakdale, 32 men.

SEES PIPELINE AS THREAT TO COAL INDUSTRY

Washington, Aug. 17 (AP)—Post-war conversion of big new petroleum pipelines from the southwest to the east as natural gas carriers in the postwar era is seen by Rep. Walter (D., Pa.) as a threat to the nation's future economic security.

The proposed conversion would bring an estimated 130 billion cubic feet of gas a year into the eastern areas served by anthracite for residential space-heating, Walter said, and jeopardize the entire coal industry.

In remarks inserted in the Congressional Record, Walter declared that Sidney S. Swensrud, vice president, Standard Oil company (Ohio), recently proposed the postwar changeover of the "Big-Inch" and 20-inch pipelines, contending that tankers again would take over the petroleum transportation business and that natural gas could be delivered and sold more cheaply than manufactured gas and other fuel presently utilized in the New York-New Jersey-Philadelphia area.

"Since gas is 'laborless' to a degree that exceeds any other fuel, it is obvious that coal cannot compete in this market against natural gas at low cost," he said.

$165,000,000 Spent

"A postwar destruction of the primary markets of anthracite would be accompanied, undoubtedly by the loss of many thousands of jobs for miners, the bankruptcy of many mining companies and the destruction of invaluable natural resources."

Government expenditure on the pipelines has totaled $165,000,000 and while at first blush it may seem economically justified to utilize these facilities after the war, the conversion effect on the anthracite industry, as well as bituminous coal, would cost the government many times that amount, Walter said, in relief and rehabilitation cost.

In this connection he recalled that public assistance expenditures in the anthracite region during the 10-year period 1933-1942 approached "one third of a billion dollars."

Converting the pipelines to gas, he declared, would be "tantamount to subsidizing a laborless fuel in order to destroy the anthracite industry whose cost is roughly 70 per cent labor." The conversion, he added, would constitute "a specific defeat of the nation's effort to secure maximum employment in the postwar period."

2 Hospitals Share $1,910 After Death

Portland, Ore., Aug. 17 (AP)—There were no flowers at Jimmie Lou's funeral — so two children's hospitals are $1,910.64 richer.

Jimmie Lou, 11, daughter of shipbuilder Jim Butler, died. Some of the boys thought a big spray would be nice, but—

"Don't buy flowers," said Jim. "Send the money to children's hospitals."

The boys passed the hat—$800 the first day. The $1,910.64 was sent to the hospitals today.

Harrisburg OPA Is Seeking Clerk

An examination for the position of fiscal clerk, at $2,190 a year, with the Harrisburg district headquarters of the Office of Price Administration was open today, according to an announcement from the U. S. Civil Service commission.

Further information and application forms may be obtained from Arthur W. Warman, local Civil Service secretary, at the post office, and should be filed with the Director, Third U. S. Civil Service Region, Customhouse, Philadelphia 6. Honorable discharged veterans, who are entitled to preference in appointment were urged to apply.

More than 142,000 girls earned homemaking badges in Girl Scouting last year.

Girl Scouting now has a membership of 840,000—an all time high.

Fear Gas Seepage

About 1,500 employees of the three Clyde mines in Greene county remained away from their jobs, saying they would not re-enter the pits until they were convinced gas from the adjacent Emerald mine in which six men lost their lives in a fire recently would not seep into their workings.

A spokesman for the men emphasized they were not on strike.

Miners at the Clyde Mine No. 2 met last night, but postponed action on a back-to-work vote until Friday. The mine is operated by Hillman Coal & Coke company. Clyde Mines 1 and 3 are operated by Republic Steel company.

Other mines strikebound because of varied grievances include the Isabella mine of Weirton Steel company, Fayette county, 360 men; Crucible Mine of Crucible Steel company, Greene county, 780 men; Westmoreland Coal company's Magee mine, Westmoreland county, 120 men; Pine Run mine near Leechburg, 82 men, and Miller mine, near Oakdale, 32 men.

SEEK TO HALT WORK STOPPAGE IN NINE MINES

Pittsburgh, Aug. 17 (AP)—United Mine Workers officials and Federal conciliators today attempted to halt work stoppages in nine western Pennsylvania coal mines that threw more than 4,000 men into idleness and stopped production of thousands of tons of coal daily.

Meanwhile, 125 employees of the Big Bend Coal company at Twin Rocks, Cambria county, and 130 men of the Arcadia mine of the New York Central Coal division returned to work. The Big Ben miners had been out three days, the Arcadia workers two weeks.

Latest walkout was among 900 employees of the Heisley Coal company, at Nanty Glo, in Cambria county. They protested docking of wages of two men who left their jobs when the company said they had failed to complete a day's work. A spokesman for the workers said the two men had demanded full pay after being sent home by a foreman for failure to properly post a section of the mine.
